

Mac Woo

Mac is a person who is always in pursuit of excellence and mastery. (精益求精). He has a myriad of valuable entrepreneurial experiences since 2003.

With a formal education in Architecture in NUS, he went on to challenge entrepreneurship by embarking on a journey to become a self-taught pastry chef of a award-winning patisserie. By 2011, he was managing 3 cafes and a catering arm consists of a team of over 25 people.

In 2012, he met his mentor Lusi Lim, Chief Coach of Lusi Group. Within a short conversation, he finally realised what was the missing puzzle in his life. The answer is Behavioural Competency! Equipped with this new found skills set, Mac went on to inspire and touch many lives. He eventually participated in every single course that Lusi Group provided.

For Mac, learning through Lusi Group courses was not enough to satisfy his craving for more skills and wisdom. He went on to sell off his F&B business which was doing very well at that point particularly after the coaching and training from Lusi Group.

He joined Lusi Group to embark on a more rewarding and purposeful career. This remains the best career decision he has ever made in his life!

Now, after 3 years of solid grooming and training with Lusi, Mac is the only 3-Stars Specialist in Lusi Group, and is also a highly sought after coach for Behavioural Competency. He has also been invited to many private and government agencies like NACLI, Great Eastern, Finexis, SMU, NUS, etc, to deliver training, and share his valuable life experiences and his journey to success.
